AAHRPP Accreditation Support: BC Diabetes

Clear and useful guidance from Kinetiq enables BC Diabetes to clearly demonstrate its commitment to research excellence during the AAHRPP process.

Case Study: Demonstrating Commitment to the Ethical Protection of Research Subjects Through AAHRPP Accreditation

The Challenge:

Organizations achieving AAHRPP accreditations are identified as research community leaders with a dedication to upholding the highest ethical standards and protections for participants in research. AAHRPP accreditation is the gold standard for research organizations and involves a rigorous review that many organizations either aren't sure how to navigate or lack the resources to dedicate to the process.

The Ask:

Support BC Diabetes through to AAHRPP accreditation. The goal was to enhance and solidify its status as the premier private research center in Western Canada dedicated to quality research and superior protections for its patients participating in clinical research studies.

The Solution:

Kinetiq customized a package of AAHRPP accreditation support services to provide BC Diabetes with targeted, real-time guidance, personalized training, and individual coaching to successfully navigate the steps of AAHRPP accreditation. This included review of policies, procedures, and the AAHRPP application itself—before submission—to identify and remediate possible impediments.

The Result:

As a result of the hard work of the entire team at BC Diabetes, they have formally received AAHRPP Accreditation. Their commitment to the ethical protection of research participants is clear and they have increased the likelihood of obtaining high-quality research opportunities to offer their patients. BC Diabetes also has the important distinction of being the first AAHRPP accredited organization in British Columbia.

“With guidance from Kinetiq, our team was well prepared for the AAHRPP accreditation process. They are a trusted partner, there when needed. I am proud of the dedication to research excellent our team here at BC Diabetes exhibits every day. With help from Kinetiq, we have been able to achieve even higher levels for our patients and for the important research we conduct.”

Is your organization considering AAHRPP Accreditation?

Kinetiq consultants—with decades of experience in AAHRPP accreditation—can provide the answers you need to determine whether you're ready to begin the process. We can help take you from pre-application to accreditation and beyond.

Kinetiq offers flexible options for organizations at any stage in the initial accreditation or re-accreditation cycle.

Accreditation Custom Fit

Choose what you need and bring Kinetiq expertise to your organization, a full readiness assessment and an on-site project manager to conduct mock reviews, lead process changes, and facilitate a clean and timely submission. Plus, we help you coordinate post-application responses and plan for a smooth site visit. Choose the services that fit your needs.

Accreditation Pre-Flight Check

If you prefer a shorter engagement that gives you peace of mind and quickly identifies gaps in application documents prior to review, then ask about the Accreditation Pre-Flight Check. You'll receive a thorough assessment of your Step 1 application. Plus, feedback is made outside of the AAHRPP submission and review timeline, enabling you to conduct low-pressure remediation and preparation.
